

Food Safety training is now affordable

Beginning Jan 1, 2005 every foodservice establishment was required to have at least one person certified in food safety on their staff.

Between the Buns Restaurants have teamed up with Prometric and designed a way to to make this less costly for restaurants in Michiana.

We firmly believe that you will not find a better deal in food safety training, while still gaining the same content as the more expensive & longer classes from other certification companies.

Accepted by Indiana Health Officials, Prometric is one of the leaders in training and certifications in food safety and other regulated industries. This class is approved for 16 hours of Continuing Education by the American Culinary Federation.

Your registration includes the class, the examination and lunch.
